

Syllabus for PHIL 314, Winter 2022, Term 1
Philosophy in the 17th Century

Instructor: Dr Anders Kraal

1. Course Description

The course offers a survey of 17th-century philosophy, with a focus on key writings of Descartes and Leibniz, but with a look also at selections from Hobbes, Pascal, Spinoza, and Locke. The historical context of these philosophers, including the religious, academic, and political context, is taken into account.

2. Lectures

MWF 10:00-11:00 in BUCH B 215.

3. Instructor

Dr. Anders Kraal (anders.kraal@ubc.ca)

4. Instructor Office Hours

TBA

5. Instructor Email Policy

Instructor will reply to emails weekdays, typically within 48 h.

6. Teaching Assistant

TBA (TA will be marking exams and papers)

7. Required Texts

Descartes, R. Discourse on Method, and Meditations (Dover edition).

Pascal, B. Pensées (Dover edition).

Leibniz, G.W.F. Discourse on Metaphysics, and The Monadology (Dover edition).

(The above books are available online as well as in the UBC bookstore for around $10 each.)

*The above books will be available in the UBC bookstore.

8. Course Requirements

Assignment	Percentage Worth
In-Class Exam (x2)	20% (x2)
Take-Home Paper	20%
Final Exam	40%

For dates, see the Schedule.

In the in-class exams you will be asked to provide answers to questions dealing with matters brought up in class prior to the date of the exam. If you miss the in-class exam you will automatically be assigned 0 points unless you provide the TA with an UBC Academic Calendar approved rationale for doing a make-up exam (this is to be provided within 1 week of the day of the exam).

In the take-home paper, you will be asked to write a 3-4 page text in response to one or more questions about material covered in class. The prompt for this paper will be posted on Canvas 1 week before the due date, and is to be submitted on Canvas. A missed assignment will automatically receive 0 points. Late assignments will not be accepted, unless you provide the TA with a UBC Academic Calendar approved rationale for an extended deadline (this is to be provided within 1 week of the day of the fixed deadline).

The final exam will be held during UBC's final examinations period. A missed final exam will be assigned a grade point of 0 unless an explanation is provided that is acceptable by the standards of the UBC Academic Calendar (in which case there will be opportunity for a make-up exam).

9. Lecture Recordings

If the class is online, lectures will be recorded and uploaded for easy student access.

10. Learning Outcomes

At the end of the course the student will be expected to (1) be familiar with some main ideas and arguments in Descartes, Pascal, Leibniz, Spinoza, Hobbes and Locke; (2) be able to explain in broad terms the significance of these thinkers for subsequent Western philosophy and culture; and (3) be aware of problems and prospects attaching to the thought of these philosophers.

11. Marking Parameters

Your mark in this course will be a function of three main factors: 1) your performance on the examinable momenta relative to your peers, 2) your comprehension of the course material, 3) demonstration of skill in assessing and evaluating philosophical ideas.

12. Marking Scale

A+ 90-100%	B+ 76-79%	C+ 64-67%	D 50-54%
A 85-89%	B 72-75%	C 60-63%	F 0-49%
A- 80-84%	B- 68-71%	C- 55-59%

The degree of difficulty on the examinable momenta will be set so as to aim at a class average outcome that by and large conforms to the department average for this course down the years, which is in the range 68%-75%, i.e., in the B/B- range. Upwards scaling may be used to this effect.

13. Policy on Review of Marked Work

Marks on exams and papers will be posted on canvas. Feedback on expected outcomes of exams and papers will be provided (typically by the Instructor) in so-called Feedback Sessions. Any concerns about the marking of a paper or exam should be submitted to the marker (typically the TA) via email, and will be responded to (typically by the TA) via email.

14. Plagiarism (from the UBC Academic Calendar)

Plagiarism, which is intellectual theft, occurs where an individual submits or presents the oral or written work of another person as his or her own. Scholarship quite properly rests upon examining and referring to the thoughts and writings of others. However, when another person's words (i.e. phrases, sentences, or paragraphs), ideas, or entire works are used, the author must be acknowledged in the text, in footnotes, in endnotes, or in another accepted form of academic citation. Where direct quotations are made, they must be clearly delineated (for example, within quotation marks or separately indented). Failure to provide proper attribution is plagiarism because it represents someone else's work as one's own. Plagiarism should not occur in submitted drafts or final works. A student who seeks assistance from a tutor or other scholastic aids must ensure that the work submitted is the student's own. Students are responsible for ensuring that any work submitted does not constitute plagiarism. Students who are in any doubt as to what constitutes plagiarism should consult their instructor before handing in any assignments. 16. UBC Values and Policies (from the UBC Academic Calendar)

UBC provides resources to support student learning and to maintain healthy lifestyles but recognizes that sometimes crises arise and so there are additional resources to access including those for survivors of sexual violence. UBC values respect for the person and ideas of all members of the academic community. Harassment and discrimination are not tolerated nor is suppression of academic freedom. UBC provides appropriate accommodation for students with disabilities and for religious and cultural observances. UBC values academic honesty and students are expected to acknowledge the ideas generated by others and to uphold the highest academic standards in all of their actions. Details of the policies and how to access support are available here (<https://senate.ubc.ca/policiesresources-support-student-success>).
